

There are several ways to find email addresses.

You can use a free tool such as Hunter: <https://hunter.io/>. You get 100 free searches a month. You enter the URL of the publication and then you can search specific editors.

You also use Rocket Reach: <https://rocketreach.co/>. You only get 5 searches a month but it is the best at finding emails. You typically enter the LinkedIn profile URL of the editor you're looking for.

Both of these have Google Chrome extensions that you can add and use easily.

You also can Google the publication's email format and Rocket Reach will show it to you. This is free for unlimited searches. Here is an example: https://rocketreach.co/forbes-email-format_b5c60c0ff42e0c51.

This gives you a percentage and then you can make an educated guess as to the actual email.

Updated: 2/11/2021